who are we?

Model United Nations, as reflected in its name, is an educational simulation of UN-style debates to address international crises, issues, and conflicts. At HealthMUN, we elevate this simulation by giving precedence to health and STEM-related topics critical to our contemporary world.

our goals.

HealthMUN was founded on the core mission of highlighting the intersection of health and international diplomacy. Here, both pre-health students and STEM majors are invited to engage in a dynamic conference, fostering intense debate, discussion, and in-depth research analysis on topics relevant to their chosen fields.

conference

this year, we only plan to host an international collegiate conference. In the future, we plan to host a high school conference as well.

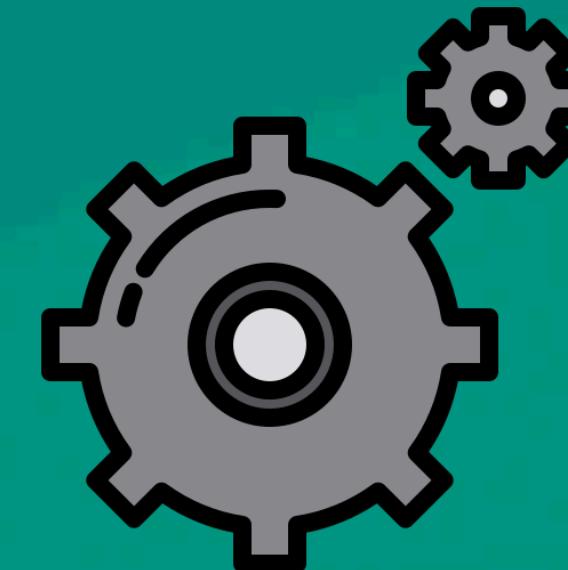

the price for conference registered will be determined in the near future. an announcement will be made on this.

the location of our conference for this year will be in NYC, USA. the specifics of this location will be disclosed in the future.

what about me?

HealthMUN currently has various positions open for hire such as Executive Board positions, Staff positions, and—in the future—directorate positions. These positions, unlike General Members, will have an application process that consists of a form and interview session.
